“Changa Chet” was celebrated at Ullens on Thursday, October 7, 2010 to mark the arrival of Dashain. “Changa Chet” is celebrated every year, with the students and/or the teachers bringing kites and flying them in the school grounds and a couple of performances by the students.

There were eleven performances altogether, seven songs and four dances. The show started off with the announcement of the highest money-collectors of the Walkathon. They were: Falguni Basnet, Aanandita Shrestha, (Grade 7), Shresha Karmacharya, Sneha Gyawali, (Grade 8). The Grade 1 kids sang the traditional Deusi- Bhailo, and everyone sang along with them. The other songs performed were: ‘Aawaz’ (Grade 8&9), ‘Break’ (grade 10), ‘you and me’ (grade 8&10), ‘Farki Farki’ (grade 10), ‘Nothing Else Matters’ (grade 8), ‘Na birse tmlai’ (Grade 8). Grade 8&9 boys really rocked the stage while performing Aawaz. Almost everyone sang along with them. Nothing Else Matters and Break were splendid too. Farki farki and You and Me were incredible. Na birse timilai was lovely.

There were five dances. Grade 4 students danced on the song Who Krishna hai. It was really well choreographed. Grade 6 danced on the song Bitay Kal. Their dance steps looked spontaneous. Grade 7 boys B-boy-ed. It was awesome. Grade 9 girls danced to the song Rehab. The song was quite energetic and so was their performance.

After that, we flew kites in the school grounds. The sky above was almost full of kites of different shapes, sizes and colour. Students from every grade were either trying to fly or really flying kites. Everyone looked happy. The weather was perfect, and you could almost see the tall mountains. Then we went for lunch. Lunch was great (except for the crowd). We had the usual dal-bhat-tarkari with Rasbaris and fried potatoes.

Hats off to all the students who performed that day! You guys were great! We're proud of you guys!
