

Trip to Lele

By Ayush Devkota, Grade 9

On 18th August 2010 we went to Saraswati School at Lele in Lalitpur district. We went there for doing social service as a part of our school CAS program. Our main objective was to help the kids over there and share our feeling with them and to know their feelings about their school and teach them and to get some knowledge from them as well.

Trip over there was a great success. We were able to get what we wanted. We were able to complete all the objectives. In the School it was very nice to see the kids and teach them and help them their studies and other creative things. We first introduced each other. We had made them write draw and do other activities. We made them dance sing and played with them together. They were very happy to see us there. We were the first grade to visit the school from Ullens.

Some of the kids were shy and some of them were very frank with us. Most of the kids we visited wanted to be a teacher. They had different talents in them and they showed it to us. We cleaned their school and even they were also helping us to clean it, that time we were working as one we were like their friends and they showed a lot of respect to us. We shared our feeling of our school and how is it like, how our teachers are and how we learn.

We got to know about them and their lifestyle. We also taught them how to make different kinds of things out of paper and they were very happy and interested to make those things and they asked us about our families and where we live and how our community is and we also got to know that the children over there were very serious about their studies and they really wanted to be successful and do something in their lives.

Overall our trip was very knowledgeable and we got to learn how city life is different from village life and we were very lucky to study in school like Ullens. Living in a village those kids were very interested in learning and they were very serious about it and their families were also very supportive to them and our trip was far better than we expected.
